This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

Historical Sketch of Oahu College.

By W. D. Alexander, LL.D., F.R.G.S.

After the conquest of Oahu by Kamehameha I. in 1795, he gave Moanalua, Kapunahou and other lands to Kameeiamoku, one of the four great chiefs of Kona, who had raised him to the throne and aided him in all his wars. Kameeiamoku died at Lahaina in 1802, and his lands descended to his son Hoapili, the most intimate friend of Kamehameha I., who afterwards became governor of Maui. Hoapili resided several years at Punahou near the spring, and during the Conqueror's second residence on Oahu, from 1804 to 1811, he also with his wives often visited this charming retreat.

Hoapili gave Punahou to his daughter Liliha, who married Governor Boki, and after their return from England in the "Blonde" in 1825, they frequently resided here. In December, 1829, just before starting on his fatal sandal-wood expedition, Boki gave Punahou to Rev. H. Bingham, with the approval of the Queen-Regent, Kaahumanu.

In 1831 Mr. Bingham built the "old house" of adobe, on the spot now marked by a memorial tablet, where it remained for over thirty years. To this cool and quiet retreat he often retired from the heat and dust of Kawaiahao.

The need of a school for their children had long been felt by the missionaries, and no hardship of their lot was so keenly felt as the heart-breaking separation from their children, sent away from home at a tender age, to a distant land for their education.

Early in the thirties the advantages of Punahou as a site for a boarding school were observed by the Mission, and long before Mr. Bingham's return to the United States in 1840, he had fully approved of its being set apart for that purpose. At that period no missionary could hold an individual title to land. The project of founding such a school was brought up in 1837, but postponed for financial reasons.

At length in the meeting of May, 1841, the school was definitely founded, the sum of two thousand dollars ($2,000.00) appropriated for the buildings, supplemented by private subscriptions, and Rev. Daniel Dole and his wife, who had just arrived, together with Miss Marcia Smith, were appointed teachers. During that year the site was prepared under the direction of Mr. Chamberlain and Dr. Judd, a cellar dug, and the old one-story adobe thatched buildings erected, enclosing two courts, open towards the sea. Four additional rooms were built in 1844. They lasted for forty years, but exist no longer except in the memories of the older alumni. The "Rice Hall" was built in 1846, and the "Dole Hall" in 1848.

The school was opened at Punahou, July 11, 1842, with 15 pupils in attendance. During the first year there were 34 pupils, of whom 15 were boarders. In the summer of 1844 the faculty was reinforced by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rice, who were transferred from Hana, Maui, to assist in the school. where they remained till 1854, Mr. Rice having special charge of financial matters and of the out-of-door work.

A charter was granted by the government June 6th, 1849, to the Trustees of the Punahou School, seven in number, empowering the Mission to fill all future vacancies in the corporation. The Rocky Hill pasture and the Manoa wood lot were purchased and enclosed during the same year. In 1855 the land of Punahou was conveyed by Royal Patent No. 1958, to the American Board, and by that body, 128.94 acres of it, together with the buildings and improvements thereon, were deeded to the Trustees of Oahu College March 12th, 1863.

The Old School House was built of stone quarried from Rocky Hill in 1852.

A new and enlarged charter was applied for and granted May 23rd, 1853, under the title of "Oahu College," with thirteen Trustees, including the President. The Rev. E. G. Beckwith, who had conducted the Royal School with remarkable success for three years, was formally installed as President under the new charter, September 25th, 1854.

In 1857 an effort was made to raise an endowment for the school, for which about fourteen thousand ($14,000.00) dollars was contributed in the United States, besides a special grant from the American Board of five thousand ($5,000.00) dollars, and three thousand ($3,000.00) more to build the first President's house, known as the "Octagon." The Hawaiian Government afterwards granted the land of Hamakuapoko on Maui and three small lands on Kauai, the sale of which realized seven thousand seven hundred and forty-five dollars and sixty-three cents ($7,745.63). In consideration of this grant to the endowment, the Government had the right of appointing two out of fifteen Trustees, until 1901.

In February, 1859, occurred the famous expedition of the faculty and twenty of the students on the schooner "Kinoole" to visit the great eruption of Mauna Loa of that year. On the 22nd of the following August, President Beckwith resigned on account of his wife's ill health. The Rev. Eli Corwin acted as President pro tem. until the arrival of Rev. C. T. Mills in November, 1860.

When failing health obliged President Mills to resign his position in the summer of 1864, he had brought up the school from a position of partial dependence on the American Board to a self-supporting basis. Among the improvements made during his administration were the laying of water pipes from the spring to the buildings in 1861, and the addition of verandas to the old school hall in 1863, the funds for which were raised by a concert given by the school.

He was succeeded by Professor W. D. Alexander, who served seven years, retiring in the spring of 1871 to accept the position of surveyor-general.

The 25th anniversary of the founding of the school was celebrated June 15th, 1866, with much enthusiasm. Professor Edward Payson Church was promoted to fill the place, which he occupied with much acceptance for four years. During this time two omnibuses were purchased by the Trustees, which were run between Nuuanu and Punahou until the inauguration of street tram cars in 1889. A small printing press was purchased by the students, and a small weekly newspaper, the "Punahou Journal," published by them for several years.

Mr. Amasa Pratt succeeded President Church, serving for three years. The Rev. William L. Jones then accepted the position, entering upon its duties in June, 1878. The fortieth anniversary of the founding of the school was celebrated June 16th, 1881, when a strong appeal was made to its friends for a building fund of fifty thousand ($50,000.00) dollars. In 1880 the "lower pasture," containing 31.3 acres, was divided into building lots, and streets laid out in it. The sale of these lots has added twenty-one thousand four hundred ($21,400.00) to the endowment.

In 1882 thirty thousand ($30,000.00) was contributed to the building fund, and during the next year Bingham Hall was built under President Jones' supervision. In January, 1883, the Armstrong lot at the head of Richards street was purchased from the Roman Catholic Mission, and the Punahou Preparatory School opened there.

In the summer of that year President Jones retired and was succeeded by the Rev. William Channing Merritt, who served for seven years.

In 1884 the Bishop Hall of Science was built and furnished with a laboratory by the liberality of Hon. C. R. Bishop. A house for the president was built by friends of the college in the fall of 1885. In 1888 a large swimming tank was added to the attractions of Punahou, to replace the old bathing pond which had been filled up. In the following year fifty-six thousand ($56,000.00) dollars was added to the endowment, of which sum forty thousand ($40,000.00) dollars was given by Hon. C. R. Bishop, and sixteen thousand ($16,000.00) dollars by other friends of the college.

After seven years of efficient service, Mr. Merritt retired in the summer of 1890, and was succeeded by Mr. Frank Alvan Hosmer, who served the college for ten years. On the 25th and 26th of June, 1891, the semi-centennial celebration of the founding of Punahou School was held, at which General S. C. Armstrong made the leading address. During this decade Pauahi Hall was built, at a cost of seventy-eight thousand six hundred and eighty-four dollars and five cents ($78,684.05) and dedicated May 21st, 1896. This beautiful building was the gift of Hon. C. R. Bishop, the generous patron of education throughout these islands. The assembly hall was furnished with a pipe-organ by the late Mrs. Mary T. Castle. Much was also done to beautify the grounds, as well as to enlarge the courses of study.

President Hosmer resigned in June, 1900, and was succeeded by Arthur Maxson Smith, Ph.D., who entered upon his duties September 17th. The principal event of his administration was the removal of the Preparatory School to Punahou. Experience has shown the wisdom of this change. The corner stone of the building now known as Chas. R. Bishop Hall was laid with impressive ceremonies October 4th, 1901. It was completed in the following summer at a cost of about seventy thousand ($70,000.00) dollars, which was defrayed, as usual, by our constant benefactor whose name it bears.

During the year 1900, the "upper pasture," now known as "College Hills," was divided into building lots, (most of which have since been sold), and has now become the most attractive suburb of Honolulu. President Smith retired in June, 1902, and was succeeded by Mr. Arthur Floyd Griffiths, who arrived here September 6th, 1902. His accession has been followed by a period of unexampled progress in every department of the college.

On the 19th of April, 1905, a memorial tablet was unveiled with appropriate ceremonies on the spot where Father Bingham's cottage once stood. With the completion of the new buildings in course of erection, of the library and the athletic field, the college bids fair to enter upon a new era of usefulness.

But in order to enable its directors to meet the enlarged opportunities opening before them, there is urgent need of an adequate endowment.
